FINAL HANKOW MEETING.

WILL THE AGREEMENT BE SIGNED?

TROOPS TO CAMP IN THE NEW TERRITORIES.

BRITISH SHIPS FIRED AT.

We learn that Mr. O'Malley and Mr. Eugene Chen are meeting to-day in the final negotiations for the signing of the agreement relating to the future status of the British Concession at Hankow. Up to the time of going to press there is no information to hand as to whether the agreement has been signed.

Regarding the movement of British troops, the entire Brigade from India is proceeding to Shanghai, and the Suffolks are relieving the 2/5th Punjab Regiment who are returning to Hongkong. The other two Brigades are to stay in Hongkong and will go under canvas in the New Territories—at Fanling and Kwanti.

Naval news from the Yangtze states that British ships have been held up at Nanking by rifle fire, and that General Chang Kai-shek has ordered Chinese to evacuate all foreign premises at Kiukiang.

London, Feb. 13. Information is still awaited from Hankow that Mr. Eugene Chen has signed the agreement regarding the Concession, which Sir Austen Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons last Thursday had been virtually concluded.

Sir Austen Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons of the British Government's views on all questions which have been under discussion with Mr. Chen and the assurances which he gave regarding British policy, were telegraphed at Hankow and it is hoped here that they will satisfy Mr. Chen and that news of the signature of the Agreement will be forthcoming immediately.—British Wireless.

NAVAL REPORTS.

MORE MISSIONARIES LEAVE.

Ichang, Feb. 13. One hundred and sixteen missionaries are now on their way down river.—Naval Wireless.

HANKOW QUIET.

Hankow, Feb. 13. The city is quiet, but posters have been displayed in the British Concession protesting against the proposed British-Sino Council.—Naval Wireless.

CHANG KAI-SHEK'S WARNING.

Kiukiang, Feb. 13. Proclamations have been issued by General Chang Kai-shek ordering Chinese to evacuate all foreign premises, and calling for the protection of foreigners and their property under severe penalties for non-compliance.—Naval Wireless.

BRITISH SHIPS STOPPED.

Nanking, Feb. 13. British ships are being stopped by rifle fire and examined by the local authorities without notice having been given. A protest is being made.—Naval Wireless.

TROOP MOVEMENT.

Chinkiang, Feb. 13. About four thousand troops have been sent to Chen Liao by train. Empty troopships are waiting at Chinkiang.—Naval Wireless.

BRIGADES FOR HONGKONG.

UNDER CANVAS IN NEW TERRITORIES.

Latest news in regard to the disposition of British troops being sent to the East is that the whole of the Brigade from India will proceed to Shanghai, the greater part not even calling at Hongkong, and that the other two Brigades will in all likelihood remain in Hongkong for some time, unless an emergency necessitates their going North.

The first of the two Brigades to come to Hongkong will go under canvas on the Kwanti racecourse in the New Territories, whilst the second Brigade will camp at Fanling, for which purpose three holes of the relief course will be utilized. The rumour that the Golf Club would be occupied by military is not correct.

These provisional arrangements for the putting of the two Brigades under canvas will hold good unless unforeseen circumstances occur necessitating their going North, but in any event the troops will not stay in the New Territories after April, when the weather begins to get warmer and the danger from malaria becomes more acute. Should the troops still be here then, it will be necessary to bring them in from the outlying districts, and for this purpose schemes are being devised for housing them. In addition to the buildings previously mentioned in this connection, it is possible that the new Empress Hotel, on the Hongkong side, may be needed. In regard to all these buildings, it is hoped that, such as may be needed will be secured by private treaty, but if this fails, emergency regulations may need to be put into force.

The 2nd. Batta. of the Suffolk Regiment, at present in Hongkong, is shortly to leave for Shanghai, and the 2/5 Punjab Regiment, which recently went North from Hongkong, is to return here.

TROOPS AT SHANGHAI.

DURHAMS AND GLOUCESTERS ARRIVE.

London, Feb. 13. The battalions of the Durham Light Infantry and Gloucestershire Regiment, which were despatched from India, reached Shanghai yesterday. They will probably land to-morrow.

A press message from Shanghai states that their arrival has relieved the anxiety which has been felt in the International Settlement since the mob over-ran the British Concession at Hankow.

It will be recalled that Sir Austen Chamberlain in the statement he made to the House of Commons last Thursday, gave an assurance that only such troops would be landed at Shanghai as were necessary for the protection of British lives and interests. The troops from India, which were already on their way to Shanghai, would be landed there. But the further troops, going from the Mediterranean and from Home would be concentrated at Hongkong and would not proceed to Shanghai, unless required by an emergency of fresh or greater danger.—British Wireless.

IF PARLEY FAILS.

NO NATIONALIST AGGRESSION.

Interviewed by a representative of the Toho News Agency in Hankow on the 5th inst., Mr. Hsu Chien, Minister of Justice of the Nationalist Government said: "Whether or not the negotiations on the British Concession here and other problems will be resumed, depends entirely upon an attitude of the British Government towards Mr. Eugene Chen's proposals. Should the present negotiations break down, the Nationalist Government would have no other alternative but to let things take their own course. In such a case, (Continued on Page 15.)

REDS DENOUNCED.

LEADING CHINA TO RUIN.

MARSHAL SUN'S VIEWS.

"With tears in my eyes I hereby issue this call to the country to unite against the morally degenerate Red elements," reads a striking sentence in a circular telegram issued by Marshal Sun Chuan-fang denouncing Red agents and explaining his political ideas on China.

Marshal Sun, whose forces are now stretched across Chekiang in preparation for the expected Cantonese drive on Shanghai, contends that China cannot improve her international position until the "Red disaster" is eliminated and a strong Central Government is established.

A PROTEST.

As published in Peking on the eve of Chinese New Year, the circular telegram reads:

"Unfortunately for China, civil wars have followed one another in a rapid succession during the past fifteen years. I have repeatedly declared that continued civil strife would end in diplomatic complications, but although I have done my best to call public attention to this danger, my advice has been left unheeded.

"Now, what I have predicted has come true. Following the incident in the Hankow British Concession, the British Government announced the despatch of troops and warships to China for the protection of its residents and their property. For the sake of the maintenance of sovereign rights of China, I have lodged a strong protest against this move.

"When the cause of the present trouble comes to be examined, it will become obvious to all that the fault lies with a few Red ringleaders who, in collusion with a few alien robbers, have instigated the ignorant people to defy the Central Government and invite trouble from the Powers. Indeed, considering the ordinary friendly relations between China and Great Britain, there should be plenty of room for an amicable settlement of the incident. Nor should there be any need for coercion.

SOVEREIGN RIGHTS.

"The intelligence of our people has grown considerably during the past few years. Everybody has learnt to love his country. Where Chinese sovereign rights are involved, nothing will be left undone to secure their preservation. But there are certain definite and established rules governing foreign commerce. Admittedly foreign Concessions in China are not ideal examples, but since their existence is regulated by treaty, China should not violate her pledged word. If China is united and the country is peaceful, I am sure the demand of China for the return of the Concessions and revision of her treaties will receive the support and sympathy of the whole world. Indeed, treaties are not immutable.

REDS BROUGHT DISASTER.

"Now the Red partisans have brought disaster upon the country as well as antagonized our friendly neighbours. Let us suppose that a man has several unworthy sons who, in collusion with bandits are bent on the destruction of the family and on bringing troubles on their neighbours. If their pernicious activities are left unchecked, they will be sure to end in the extinction of the family. Under such circumstances how can the parents sit idly by?

"There is a Chinese saying that there must be something wrong with a nation first before another nation begins to insult it. China has now reached a crisis and no time should be lost. With tears in my eyes I hereby issue this call to the country to unite against the morally degenerate Red elements and bring about their elimination so that the spirit of evil may be extinguished and righteousness upheld. If this is done, the whole

MORE ANTI-BRITISH PLACARDS.

POSTED BY CHINESE AT SHATAUKOK.

PROTEST TO CANTON.

The posting of anti-British placards at Shataukok, a village in the New Territories which is half in British and half in Chinese territory, has become so marked that the Hongkong Government has been forced to take action. A strong protest has been sent to the British Consul at Canton, for transmission to the Canton Government, whilst men of the 2nd. Batta. King's Own Scottish Borderers are to make route marches through the village.

It appears that recently a large number of Chinese soldiers have been posted to the Chinese section of Shataukok, where they have been busy organising what is termed a Farmers' Army, members of which have indulged in a deal of anti-British propaganda. For some time past, violent anti-British posters have appeared on the Chinese side of the main street, but these have of late been posted up on the British side as well. Those responsible are the Chinese troops and residents who have been egged on by agitators. The situation has become so bad that the Chinese detectives employed by the Hongkong police have declined to go into Shataukok.

The posters are of a most inflammatory character, stating, amongst other things, that the New Territories really belong to China. Accompanying the posters have been various anti-British cartoons.

In view of these developments, the Government has arranged for detachments of the Borderers, now in camp in the locality, to make route marches through the village streets. These will take place four times a day, with a view to assuring the inhabitants of the British section of adequate protection. It is hoped that this will have the effect of curbing the anti-British campaign.

In connection with the recent plastering of railway carriages on the Kowloon-Canton line with anti-British posters, it now transpires that this was the work of Chinese troops at Samchun, and was not done by passengers, as at first thought.

ROYAL VISITORS.

London, Feb. 13. The King and Queen of the Belgians, arrived in London last night, having travelled from Brussels to see the exhibition of Flemish art.

Their visit is of a private and unofficial character, but they lunched to-day with King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham Palace.—British Wireless.

world will sit up and listen when China places her demand for the opening of negotiations for the revision of the unequal treaties and the abolition of extraterritoriality.

MOB ATTACKS.

A MISSION HOUSE LOOTED.

KUOMINTANG AGITATION.

Having seen all they possessed burned by a mob before their eyes, and having been saved from possible assault by the outstretched arms of the only man in their party, four women missionaries from Kiangsi arrived in Shanghai last week with over one hundred other refugees from places bordering the Yangtze Valley, by the S.S. Woosung. They had been stationed at Loping, a town near the Kwangsin River. Miss E. G. Wray, Miss E. Twiddle, Miss I. E. A. Day, and Mrs. A. E. Beard are their names. With them was Mr. Beard, the man who had protected them from the attacks of an infuriated mob at Loping.

UNEXPECTED ATTACK.

Telling the story of their experiences to a representative of the Shanghai Sunday Times, one of the ladies in the party emphasized the fact that the attack was wholly unexpected. A few days before Sunday, January 23, the day on which the assault took place, the party at Loping had received a letter advising them to make what haste they could to safety. The local inhabitants had never seemed unfriendly to them, however, and they delayed their departure for several days.

On the morning of January 23, they informed their fellow Christians that they would be leaving on the following Tuesday, and one of the converts passed their information on to the local Kuomintang leaders in the hope that it might avert an attack on the mission premises, should such be planned. Sunday afternoon, however, saw a mass meeting called by the Kuomintang party, whose leaders addressed the mob with inflammatory speeches. The foreigners were warned by friends to keep within their house, and to lock the door.

WALLS SCALED.

Carried away by the oratory of the leading agitators, the mob burst away from the mass meeting and forming a procession, toured the streets until the mission house was reached. Banging on the gates, they received no response. An agitator then scaled the walls of the compound and unlocked the gates from the inside, letting loose a flood of raving and livid humanity into the lower sections of the mission house.

The foreigners had taken refuge at the top of the building, where they were left unmolested while the mob wrecked the lower storey. The crowd, among whom were students and working men, built a bonfire in the courtyard, and everything which could not be carried away by those who fancied it, was broken up and hurled on to the flames. The mission chapel, the school, and the evangelist's house were destroyed in this way.

Having done all the damage possible to the lower storey the mob tried to gain the upper, where were the bedroom of the ladies. The three rooms facing the front on which the mob were attacking were uninhabitable on account of the shower of rocks hurled through the windows from the courtyard, and the small party of five foreigners—four women and one man—were assembled in the hall landing. At the head of the staircase Mr. Beard, who with outstretched arms held back the crowd pressing upwards, while he argued and pleaded with them.

LOOTED OR SMASHED PROPERTY.

The mob, however, procured a ladder and entered the top storey by the verandah facing the front. They immediately started the same wrecking programme they had perpetrated on the ground floor. Everything smashable was smashed. Everything which could be taken away was taken. What was left was thrown out of the window.

TROUBLE NEAR MACAO BORDER.

TROOPS FIGHT PEASANT CORPS.

CONFLICT CONTINUES.

According to reports reaching us to-day, there has been a serious armed conflict in the Chinsan district, near the Macao border.

The Peasant Corps of Heungshan is said to be a "Red" organisation and its members have been in conflict with the local garrison forces. The District Magistrate of Heungshan has sent troops to stop the fighting, but it is stated that they have so far been ineffectual.

Throughout Kwangtung, the Peasant Corps in various districts have been a good deal in conflict with the garrison forces and the Village Volunteer Corps.

It is alleged that bandits and other undesirables usually seek protection when fearing arrest by joining the Peasant Corps and that when troops or Village Volunteers seek to arrest the wanted men, they are stoutly opposed by the Peasant Corps.

It is stated that the Provincial authorities have been fully aware of this anomalous position for some time past but have not been in a position to oppose the Peasant Corps which is in very friendly relations with the various Labour Unions and with whom they might combine to make trouble if they are interfered with.

ARMED ROBBERIES.

BY GANG ON LAMMA ISLAND.

From Lamma Island has come the report of two armed robberies, carried out by a gang of five armed men, resulting in the theft of $37 worth of property from two adjacent houses in the village of Fung Sai Tang.

The inmates of the houses before retiring for the night, had taken the usual precaution of barring themselves in, but in fear of dire threats, they were made to admit the unwelcome visitors. Carrying choppers, and with their faces covered, the robbers ransacked the two houses, one after the other. Because one of their victims offered resistance, he was knocked down with a bamboo pole.

The police received a report of the affair during the week-end.

FLIGHT PLANS.

DE PINEDO MODIFIES INTENTIONS.

Rome, Feb. 13.

The Marquis de Pinedo, has as- sailed to Sardinia on a flight to Brazil.

His plans are uncertain but he has apparently modified his previous intentions, and will probably fly to South America and return home via the United States and the Azores.—Reuter.

Rabat, Feb. 13.

The Marquis de Pinedo has arrived here.—Reuter.

ROYAL GIFT.

TO AUSTRALIAN PARLIAMENT.

London, Feb. 13.

It is understood to be the King's intention to present to the Commonwealth of Australia, the new buildings of which the Duke of York will shortly open on behalf of His Majesty at Canberra, a pair of despatch boxes which stand on the table in front of the speaker's Chair at Westminster, a replica of which has been presented by the British Government to the Australian Parliament of Australia, and that when His Majesty expressed the wish to make a personal gift to the new Government buildings and suggested the despatch boxes, the offer was warmly received and accepted.—British Wireless.

"ROPE" SHARES.

JUDGEMENT AGAINST BROKERS.

NO DIRECT PURCHASE.

A suggestion that they dropped out of the deal altogether, and that the seller agreed to buy direct from the purchaser did not influence Mr. Justice Wood, acting Chief Justice, when Chan Chan-nam and Co., China Building, share and general brokers, were sued before him in the Supreme Court this morning, in respect of a share transaction. The plaintiff, Unes Lebe Ahmed Mohideen, merchant, of 64, Queen's Road Central, claimed damages for breach of contracts by the defendants to accept and pay for 1,000 shares of the Green Island Cement Company, Ltd., and 500 combined shares of the Hongkong Rope Manufacturing Co., Ltd.

Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C., was for the plaintiff, and the defendants were not in Court. Mr. M. M. Watson was present, but Mr. Potter informed his Lordship that he understood Mr. Watson had no instructions to appear that day.

Dealing with the Green Island shares, Mr. Potter said a sum of money in respect of those had been paid into Court and accepted by the plaintiffs, so that that portion of the claim need not be considered by His Lordship.

With regard to the Rope Co. shares, the plaintiff employed the defendants as brokers on April 30th, 1925, for the sale of the five hundred combined shares at the price of $58 per share. That was admitted, as his Lordship would see in the statement of defence. They were therefore in the position that the share contract was admitted and the only point his Lordship had before him was the amount to which the plaintiff was entitled.

TWO DEFENCES.

There were only two defences raised, the first of which was that on July 27th, 1925, the defendants furnished the plaintiff with the name of the buyer, and the plaintiff agreed to deal direct with him. The plaintiff's reply to that was that no such name was ever disclosed. The contract was made on April 30th, and the shares were to be delivered and payment made on July 28th, so that the case raised by the defence was that on July 27th, the day before the Settlement, Chan was entitled to come forward and say a certain person was the purchaser, and the seller would have to deal with him direct.

He (Mr. Potter) submitted that that reading of the rules, which was put upon them by the defendants, was not a true one.

NO FREE MARKET.

The second point of the defence was—"We were not ready and willing to deliver." The Court might hold that the plaintiff could have gone on the market and found another buyer, perhaps at a lower figure, and then the remedy would be quite sufficient. He would prove, however, that there was no free market on that day and the Stock Exchange was closed. Not only was there no free market, but there were actually hardly any transactions at all in any shares. Furthermore, there were no transactions for "Ropes" for months and months afterwards, so that the plaintiff had never been in a position to get rid of the shares, and had been unable to go on the market.

METHOD OF DELIVERY.

Dealing with the question of delivery, Mr. Potter said the usual method of making delivery on the local Exchange was for the buyer to give the broker a delivery order. The seller did not deliver him the actual shares, because generally they happened to be deposited in the Bank, and the shares could not be obtained until a sum of money had been paid into the Bank. The plaintiff gave a delivery order to Mr. Chan, authorising him to take delivery from the Bank. Mr. Chan then had to pay into the Bank the correct amount which he would obtain from the purchaser, and the shares would be released. There (Continued on Page 15.)

KOWLOON MATTERS.

QUESTION OF ELECTRIC VOLTAGE.

The monthly meeting of the Kowloon Residents' Association was held on Monday, February 7.
A somewhat disappointing reply
was read from the Government with reference to the extension of the Children's playground.

Change of Voltage.

A satisfactory reply was read from the General Managers of the China Light and Power Co., Ltd., stating that when the conversion
to the higher voltage had been carried out, the present tariff
would be lowered.

The letter follows:
Sir.—In reply to your letter of the 18th inst. relative to the increase in supply voltage, preparations for which are now being made by this Company, we beg to state that the matter is one which has had the most careful consideration before being decided on, both from the Consumers' and the Company's point of view, and we wish to point out that the change over to the higher voltage is one which is in accordance with the most modern practice, and is now adopted by the great majority of the Electric Supply Undertakings in the United Kingdom, in addition to those of cities in the East and Far East such as Bombay, Colombo, Calcutta, Penang, Singapore, Hongkong and Shanghai.

The conversion will be to the ultimate advantage of both the Consumers and Supply Company,
inasmuch as a saving in cost of underground cables owing to the smaller cross-sectional area required for the higher voltage will be effected, and also the number of sub-stations required for distribution purposes will be considerably reduced with a consequent large saving in the cost of land and buildings. Owing to decreased expenditure, a lower cost in production will result and as it is the intention of this Company when the conversion to the higher voltage has been carried out to give the Consumer the benefit of this by lowering the present tariff, thus compensating for any increase in the cost of candle power referred to by a correspondent in the *South China Morning
Post* dated the 20th December, 1926.

With regard to the question of alteration of electrical apparatus
mentioned by the same correspondent, this is a matter which will be given most careful attention by the Company with a view to ensuring that Consumers' property will be altered and replaced with no expense to the individual,
and also that the apparatus will be returned in the same condition
as received, from the Consumer with the exception that the altered equipment will be suitable for use on the higher voltage.

Bathing Facilities.

As the bathing season is approaching, the Committee decided to write to the Government to remind them of the scheme submitted to them in the Committee's letter of 26th July, 1926, hoping to receive a favourable reply.

Draft of Report for 1926 was considered and adopted. It was decided to send a copy of the Report to all Season Ticket holders of the Star Ferry Co. as well as to Members of the Association up to 1,000. A Sub-Committee was appointed to deal with this matter.
A warm vote of thanks was tendered to the Rev. J. R. Johnston for the able manner in which he had presided at the meetings, also to Mr. J. I. Parren for the excellent work he had done as Hon. Secretary.

It was decided to propose Dr.
Macgown for President, Mr.
Stokes as Vice President and Mr.
Alves as Hon. Treasurer. The post of Hon. Secretary was left for the new President to nominate.
The annual meeting to be held on Monday 21st February, and it is hoped the Members will turn up in full force. The meeting is public and Kowloon Residents are cordially invited.

DISARMAMENT.

THE AMERICAN PROPOSALS.

Paris, Feb. 12.
The Government will not draft a reply to the American Disarmament Note until M. Briand has given the Cabinet his views on the question;
but official circles state that France is ready to associate herself with any plans for disarmament and maintenance of peace.

It is emphasized that as the Preparatory Disarmament Committee is about to reach practical decisions, it would be illogical to ignore it now.
Furthermore, Mr. Coolidge's proposals bind only France and Italy in Europe, while Spain, Greece, Turkey
and Russia are outside their scope, for there is no guarantee that these powers will adhere to the convention.
Also, as the proposals deal exclusively with naval armament, they are contrary to the principle constantly upheld by France in the Preparatory Commission, to discuss simultaneously the question of naval,
air and economic forces.—Reuter.

The Geneva Conference.

Washington, Feb. 12.
The Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives has approved the Bill authorizing an appropriation of seventy-five thousand dollars, requested by Mr. Coolidge, for further participation of the United States in the Geneva Arms Conference.

The Committee discussed the advisability of recommending that the limitation of cruisers, destroyers and submarines should be placed on the agenda of the Conference, but took no action.—Reuter's American Service.

Criticism in France.

Paris, Feb. 12.
M. Paul Boncour, French representative at the League of Nations, interviewed regarding President Coolidge's disarmament
Memorandum, said the discussion proposed by President Coolidge would overlap the work of the preparatory commission at present dealing with the problem.
Therefore he was unable to agree with President Coolidge.
He added, moreover, that the work of the League Commission was progressing well and should serve as a basis for the disarmament conference to be held in 1927, or at the latest in 1928.
Press comments to-day criticise
the Memorandum mainly on these lines.—Reuter.

Some Difficulties.

Rugby, Feb. 12.
In the Press, as in official circles, President Coolidge's proposals for agreement further to limit naval armaments are welcomed in principle. The newspapers in their comments, however, deal with some of the difficulties which the matter presents.

The special correspondent of the Daily News points out that the proposals would involve.

(1) Separating naval from military and air disarmament.
(2) Separating the five Washington Powers from the rest of the world even in the sphere of naval armaments.

(3) Forestalling the coming Disarmament Conference and abandoning completely the scheme of dealing with the armament problem as a whole.

There are bound, moreover, says
the correspondent, to be serious difficulties about applying the ratio of 5-5-3 to cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

These figures have proved to represent the actual relationship not of whole fleets but of the capital ships of Britain, America and Japan on November 15, 1921. They did not, and do not, represent, or come near representing, relationship in cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

Britain's Sure Shield.

The Daily Telegraph, in a leading article, says Britain has associated herself throughout with the general principles which the American Government, to its honour, has been advocating. But assent to such proposal by an insular people

always in danger of military invasion
as well as of aerial attack represents no small sacrifice.

The navy is the defence of the inviolability of our shores against foreign armies, and without it we should be helpless. It is apparent also that naval problems concern
not only us, but also the populations of our Dominions.

They were represented at the Washington Conference, and any action which this country may take in regard to further discussions
must be still harmonised with them,
as was the case at Washington six years ago.

The Daily Telegraph thinks that what the ratio for each type of auxiliary vessel should be would be obviously a matter for discussion in the knowledge of each Power's peculiar situation. It considers that there are advantages in confining the discussions, at least in the initial stage, to countries represented at Washington in 1920-1921.
—British Wireless.

Smaller Navies First.

Washington, Feb. 12.
A spokesman for the White House declares that President Coolidge has every expectation that the Powers will favourably consider his disarmament suggestion.

It is stated that the President thinks the proposals will prove acceptable owing to their reasonableness and the fact that the Powers have already accepted the formula suggested.

Admitting the Powers at the preparatory conference stumbled over the question of what branch of armaments should first be taken up, President Coolidge feels that this is no objection to his proposals, which, by suggesting that naval limitation should be proceeded with,
may provide a way of escape.—

AMERICAN FARMERS.

SENATE PASSES RELIEF MEASURE.

Washington, Feb. 12.
The Senate has passed the Farm Relief Bill by 47 to 39 votes with an amendment including tobacco
as one of the basic commodities on which the equalisation fee will be levied, and putting into effect the plan designed to ensure cotton planters against a decline in prices.

YOU MAY BE THE GREATEST GENIUS

The world has yet seen; your busi-

Without good health success is then, means first of all conserving your health. To do this you have but to fortify the system to ward

the stress and strain of modern existence, do not always function to best advantage.

 the Consuls that the Chinese Superintendent of Customs has been appointed Director for the

A Surtax Bureau will be opened

It is believed the same policy will be adopted in other northern of attempting to compel the For-the surtax, which led to Sir F.

 Aglen's dismissal.

The Japanese Consul at Tientsin

IDLE FLEET.

CHINA MERCHANT OFFICERS.

NOW IN SAD PLIGHT.

The seventy foreign officers of the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Co. who were thrown out of employment at practically a day's notice when their services with the company were terminated last week, are faced with a desperate situation, says the Shanghai Times. The majority of them have wives and families either in Shanghai or at Home, and in view of the present economic situation in Shanghai and elsewhere in China there seems little prospect of their securing employment of any kind to tide over the crisis.

REFUSED SLEEPING ACCOMMODATION.

Many of the discharged officers have no homes in Shanghai and have been accustomed to living on board the vessels when in port but even this privilege has been denied them now. They have been cut adrift with a month's pay at short notice and with the unwelcome prospect of looking for a home for an indefinite period. Efforts were made by Mr. W. E. Kirby, Secretary of the China Coast Officers' Guild, to secure permission from the Company to allow the discharged officers to sleep on board the idle vessels and occupy their former cabins without any obligation to the Company either in respect of food or payment, but this has been reluctantly denied them by the Company.

Three reasons have been put forward for this refusal, namely, that in the event of permission being granted the foreign officers there would be a similar demand by the discharged Chinese seamen and others which would have to be refused. Secondly, owing to the military situation, with only the master of the vessel and the chief engineer left to take care of the vessels with a crew of six sailors, there was less likelihood of the vessel being commandeered.

PROMISE TO TAKE OFFICERS BACK.

These, and one or two minor reasons, were given for the refusal of the request, but Mr. Fu Siao-en, managing director of the Company, stated that he would give his personal guarantee that the men who had been dismissed should be re-engaged under the same conditions and on the same rates of pay at the end of the trouble and as soon as there was any possibility of the Company resuming operations. An attempt is to be made to get the other directors to agree to the same thing.

This situation arose out of the Company's decision to discharge all junior officers on vessels belonging to the Company at present lying idle in Shanghai. This was effected on February 1 when the men received a month's salary for the period ended January 31 and no notice was given. Thus, approximately 70 foreign officers and several hundred Chinese were forced "on the beach" and are likely to remain there for some time unless they have the good fortune to secure other positions. Many of them are prepared to struggle along on what little savings they may have, in the hope of being re-instated in the near future; but there are others who fear that there is little prospect of this in view of the present financial position of the Company. All the discharged officers are of junior rank, but that does not necessarily mean that they have not given lengthy service to the company. Some of them were even on the eve of retirement after long and faithful service. Their prospects of a pension and passage home seem very remote.

MASTERS ON HALF PAY.

The master and chief engineers of the vessels in Shanghai have been retained for the time being in the Company's service, but on half pay only.

The Company has been forced to take these drastic steps owing to the continued commandeering of its ships by the military in various parts of the Yangtze Valley and Canton for troop movements and other military operations. The resultant loss of trade has forced the Company to the wall and the threat of bankruptcy hangs over its head if the same set of circumstances continue.

Sooner than have the vessels commandeered by the military the Company decided to tie up many of them and, as a result, every officer and man who is not absolutely essential for the safe-

"FRIENDLY GAME."

TECHNICAL OFFENCE PROVED.

The case in which the defendant solicitor described the offence as a "friendly game" of dominoes, came up for hearing before Mr. R. E. Lindsell this morning. In place of Mr. F. E. Loseby, who appeared at the previous hearing, Mr. C. A. S. Russ defended to-day, his case being that all the defendants were inmates of a fish-shop and were indulging in a friendly game at the time of the police visit.

The evidence relied on by the prosecution was given by a Chinese constable, who acted as "pigeon-stool" in the case. This witness said that he watched one hand, discovered how it shaped out for the seven players, and called in the police. During the resultant raid, a tin was seized, which, the police submitted, was used as a receptacle to contain the commission. In apportioning the respective responsibility in the case, the police enquired for the principal tenant, but this individual was held to have gone into the country, leaving the shop in the charge of his daughter-in-law. She was the No. 1 defendant in Court.

Called upon by Mr. Russ to give an exposition in Court of the game he saw, witness sorted out the dominoes, and asserted that the game played was pai-kau—a more "hectic" form of gambling than the ten-kau suggested by the defendant solicitor.

In the witness-box, the No. 1 defendant said that the principal tenant of the shop was her father-in-law who owned the business. The No. 2 defendant came into the shop to amuse herself with the lady, No. 3 defendant was an egg-seller doing business with the shop, No. 4 was a shop-fok, No. 5 was her husband, No. 6 was another fok, while No. 7 was her younger brother. The game played was a friendly one, little money being passed, and although the tin was used to contain commission, the commission would ultimately go towards the cost of a little supper.

Mr. Russ explained that this bore some analogy to the "kitty" at a poker game.

His Worship found that there had been technical infringement in the taking of commission. He was prepared to discharge the defendants with a caution, but the money seized and dominoes would be confiscated.

lately essential for the safe-keeping of the vessels has been dispensed with.

The position with the discharged men is extremely serious and there is a feeling among many of them that services with the Company have been definitely terminated. Some are prepared to struggle along hoping for the best but others would like to know definitely whether their services will be required again in the event of the Company resuming operations.

This assurance has been definitely given by Mr. Fu Siao-en, according to Mr. W. E. Kirby, but the assurances of the other directors would relieve the suspense of the men who have assisted in bringing prosperity to the Company by their devoted service to its interests at all times.

MR. SUN FO ORDERS INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Sun Fo, Minister of Communications of the Nationalist Government, on February 9th made public the following order regarding the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company which has stopped its services:

"Notice is hereby given that whereas the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company has suddenly on its own account discontinued its sailing service, thus deranging the communication facilities of the country and jeopardizing the interest of stockholders; therefore the Ministry of Communications, in order to safeguard the interest of the Company and its stockholders, undertakes to appoint a special committee of investigation. Pending the investigation no sale, mortgage, transfer of steamers, godowns, wharves and other properties by the present management of the said company under any pretext to whatever parties shall be permitted or recognized as valid by the Nationalist Government.—By order, Sun Fo, Minister of Communications, dated 9th February."

This notification is sent to the head office of the company at Shanghai, the General Chambers of Commerce throughout the country and the Bankers Association, Shanghai.

NAVAL DISARMAMENT.

ITALY'S EXPECTED RESERVATIONS.

Rome, Feb. 13.

Signor Mussolini has already conferred with the Chief of the Naval General Staff regarding President Coolidge's Memorandum.

The semi-official view is, that without claiming to anticipate the reply, it may at present be stated that Italy, in view of her modest naval programme, cannot consent to measures likely to endanger her vital interests. Moreover, new factors have emerged since 1922, like the breakdown of the Rome conference of small naval Powers and the naval armaments acceleration programmes of the Great and Small Powers at present in the Mediterranean.—Reuter.

PERTINENT CONSIDERATIONS.

London, Feb. 13.

Commenting in the Observer, upon President Coolidge's proposal for the limitation of those classes of warships not covered by the Washington Treaty, Mr. J. L. Garvin says that "France, Italy and Japan will resist the limitation of submarines. Then, how can the British Empire reduce cruisers? Again, in view of the oceanic character and extent of the British Empire a considerable number of our cruisers are required in peacetime for peace purposes. Would it do any good at this juncture, if Britain's power of naval movement were crippled in the Far East while, by land, Russia were free to send into China agents and munitions without restriction? Are flying forces to be free to bomb naval bases while naval forces are weakened in their power to act against nations containing flying bases? If the Russian armies are to be organised without restriction, are the possibilities of naval counterpoise to be diminished in the Baltic, the North Sea and the Mediterranean? Would this make for tranquillity and reinforced guarantees for peace? These are only few of the considerations which will protract discussion and jeopardise conclusions. None the less, President Coolidge's proposal is heartily to be welcomed.

AN ELUSIVE RATIO.

The Sunday Times, remarks that the definite ratio of strength fixed in the Washington Agreement for capital ships has been honourably observed. The case for a ratio is by no means so clear with the smaller ships. Battleships and armoured cruisers are of no use except to fight fleet actions in war and their strength may not unfairly be conditioned by purely political circumstances which are within the control of diplomacy. Light cruisers and destroyers have a use in battle but their principal function is to police the seas and to execute a blockade, which, it must be remembered, is one of the means of coercion contemplated by the Covenant against a Power recalcitrant to the authority of the League. The number of smaller craft that a nation requires depends, therefore, very much on the size and extent of its commitments at sea. An island Empire, like the British, with its immense merchant fleet, presents a much greater target to attack than any other country. While a fair diplomatic ratio for capital ships was easily discovered at Washington, the ratio for smaller craft that should take into account very complicated geographical and economic considerations might well prove more elusive.—British Wireless.

UNGRATEFUL!

KINDNESS RETURNED BY THEFT.

A story of how a man returned his friends' kindness by robbing them, was related to Mr. Schofield at the Central Magistracy this morning, when a Chinese was charged with the theft of clothing and other property.

He pleaded guilty.

Detective Sergeant Carey stated that, newly-arrived from the country without a job and without a home, the defendant was taken in by friends and looked after at their home in Queen's Road Central. During the night, while they slept, he sneaked out from the house, taking with him a basket full of clothing. He was arrested at two o'clock in the morning in Des Voeux Road.

Sentence of three months' hard labour was passed.

AUTHORITY EXCEEDED.

REBUFF TO KWANGSI KUOMINTANG.

The future existence of Chinese Chambers of Commerce in the important centres of Kwangsi was threatened by an order which was recently issued by the Kuomintang Headquarters in Kwangsi and which ordered "the dissolution" of all the Chambers of Commerce in the different parts of the Province. In consequence of this order, many merchant organisations closed their offices.

The order has, however, given rise to a difference of opinion between the military and civil authorities in the province, the former declaring that the Kwangsi Kuomintang Headquarters had no right to issue the order, as such an important matter as the dissolution of "people's organisations" rested entirely in the hands of the Government, and that the Kuomintang had exceeded its powers. The military authorities took the matter further by asking the Provincial Government for immediate redress by the cancellation of the illegal order.

It is now reported that the Government has issued a statement promising all Chambers of Commerce its protection and asking them to re-open and function for trading purposes as usual.

NO PASSPORTS.

TRAVELLING PERFORMERS CHARGED.

Two members of a travelling troupe of performers, John and Steve Floris, who came to the Colony without proper papers, were taken into custody on their arrival from Canton, and charged before Mr. Schofield this morning.

Mr. T. H. King who prosecuted, asked for a conviction on the charge of lacking proper passports, in view of the circumstances of the case, with an order for their ultimate deportation from Hongkong. He had consulted Mr. F. C. Vaux, who appeared for the defence, and understood that arrangements would be made during the period of a short remand, for which he was now applying, for the defendants' departure.

Mr. Vaux said that this was so. The police were within their rights in taking proceedings on the question of passports.

The two defendants, who stated that they belong to a troupe of fourteen, which included women and children, and that they originated from Wisconsin, although domiciled in Argentina, were remanded until Thursday, being allowed bail of $150 each.

Rupert Clark, seven years old, is now a millionaire and one of Great Britain's largest landowners. His father died recently at Monte Carlo. The estate includes 113,000 acres near Melbourne, Australia.

CORRESPONDENCE.

SHARING PLAYING GROUNDS.

[To the Editor of the Hongkong Telegraph.]

Sir,—In view of the fact that several thousand additional British troops will shortly be arriving here for a probable stay of several months, it is obvious that the Colony's present playing-grounds are, apart from radical re-distribution and re-allotment, wholly insufficient to meet the imminent pressing need for giving numerous opportunities for active exercise to these extra Forces.

Under these circumstances, it is obviously necessary for civilians to practise self-denial for the general good of all, by sharing their playing grounds, in a liberal manner, with the new military contingents who will urgently require good hard exercise to keep them well and fit.

There are also several hundred additional naval men in the Colony to be provided for.—Yours, etc., CIVILIAN.

Hongkong, Feb. 14th, 1927.

HATS AND CAPS.

KOWLOON COURT CASES.

At the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, hats and caps formed the subject of three charges brought against a trio of Chinese before Mr. T. W. Ainsworth.

A young boy was sentenced to two months' hard labour for larceny of a felt hat from a matshed at Cheung Sha Wan. The defendant had been convicted of larceny on two previous occasions.

When charged with snatching a cap from a small baby, an 18-year-old Chinese stated that he wanted to raise some money to pay his ferry fare to Hongkong. Sentence of one month's hard labour was passed.

Seen wearing a hat in the Court room, a Chinese coolie was fined $1 for contempt of Court.

QUEEN'S THEATRE.

"THE DUST FLOWER."

A very interesting Screen Snapshot, followed by "Fool Proof," a clever Christie comedy, featuring Nell Burns, and "The Dust Flower" comprise the programme at present showing at the Queen's Theatre. Helen Chadwick, who plays the part of Letty Gravely in the main picture, acts with great appeal. The story shows how a girl is saved from suicide by a young millionaire, her hasty marriage and the subsequent outcome.

The film, though dramatic, has plenty of light and entertaining touches provided by Claud Gillingwater in the role of a butler. As such he teaches Letty how to be a lady, adding "I know all the ways of a lady."

LEAGUE CRICKET.

WIN FOR KOWLOON.

There were two matches played on Saturday which had a material bearing on the relative positions of the leading teams in both Leagues and in each case the winners established themselves in commanding positions at the top of their respective divisions.

In the senior division the Kowloon team is one point above the Civil Service, with two matches in hand, and in the junior the Indians are three points ahead of the Police.

DIVISION I.

Kowloon v. Civil Service.
All through the week there was much conjecture as to what would be the ultimate result of the match between the two leading teams, and though it was not thought that the Hoppy Valley men, who were then at the top of the League, would administer a defeat to the Kowloon players, it was generally expected that a draw would result.

By their victory, the Kowloon XI has gained such a commanding lead over the other teams that it does not seem that they will be deposed of their position at the head of the League table. They have yet to meet the Indians and Kowles, (who are their only strong opponents) the Royal Artillery and the Royal Engineers.

Saturday's match was played on the Kowloon ground where the Civil Service batsmen took first knock. The home bowlers were in fine form with the ball and the innings realised only 132 runs, of which Sayer contributed 64. Goodwin took five wickets for 29 and Ross 4 for 30.

With a good start, the visitors' total was passed with only six Kowloon wickets down. Stumps were drawn with the score at 142. Lyle was the most successful batsman, scoring 35 before being bowled.

Craigengower v. Navy.
On the Craigengower ground, the home team was defeated by the Royal Navy by five wickets, the hosts batting first and scoring 136 while the Navy replied with 143 for five wickets. For Craigengower, Omar made 33 and Ismail 26, Beatty taking six wickets for 25 runs. Agnew (79) was the top scorer for the Navy team.

DIVISION II.

Indians v. Police.
The Indians and the Police met on the Sookumpoo ground to decide the issue of the second Division honours for the season. The Indians, with the advantage of playing at home, were victorious by 47 runs, thus making the chances for the premier place secure.

With the first seven players all reaching double figures, the Indians were able to declare their innings closed at 183 for the loss of eight wickets. Akber scored 41, while Madar, Hussain, Ismail and Sufiad passed the 20 mark.

Although Alexander scored 40, with three others reaching the twenties, the Police were not as consistent as their opponents and were all dismissed for 136 runs. Going on towards the end, A. K. Minu took five wickets for 32 runs.

Hongkong C. C. v. Tamar.
After defeating the Indian R. C. and the Kowloon C. C., the Tamar went under to the Hongkong C. C. second string, who registered their first victory on Saturday. Up to then they had not scored a single point, but their win still leaves them at the bottom of the League.

The Tamar batted first and scored 101 (Bensley 32) before losing five wickets for 22 runs. The Hongkong C. C. replied with 139 for nine wickets (Standage 50 and Nicholson 33), Swift taking eight wickets for 60 runs.

Civil Service v. Kowloon.
The feature of the above match played on the Civil Service ground was the first Second League century of the season, scored by W. Hyde of Kowloon. With 37 runs, Peckham and 23 from Duncan, the visitors declared with their total at 202 for the loss of eight wickets.

The home players could do no better than 125 runs, of which Sutherland made 23 and Westlake 21. Duncan captured four wickets for 27 runs.

Navy v. University.
This match was played on the Navy ground at Happy Valley and resulted in a win for the home players, who, going in first, knocked up the score of 137 for eight wickets declared. (Palmer 29, Coleridge 26 and Haynes 25). The University innings realised 105 (Baker 30), Atkinson taking four wickets for 22 runs.

team by seven wickets. The University scored 180 for eight wickets (Extras, 36; E. Zimmerman, 27 and Ng 26). The Hongkong C. C. replied with 218 for three wickets, (Parker 100 not out, and Owen Hughes 88).

Recreio v. R. A. O. C.

The Portuguese team repeated their League success over the R. A. O. C. by again defeating the military team, this time by the narrow margin of five runs.
The R. A. O. C. made 87 (Lake 31 and Walker 27 not out, Marques took five wickets for 15 and Reed four for 34).
The Recreio players made 92 (Lopes 23 and M. F. Pinna 17 not out). Lake took five wickets for 25 and Walker four for 42.

V. R. C. REPORT.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES.

At the annual meeting of the Victoria Recreation Club to be held at the Club house on Friday, February 18, at 8 p.m., the report for the year will be presented.

The financial statement shows a loss on working account during 1926 amounting to $1,058.10. Subscriptions totalled $4,802.00 but the expenses were $7,870.55.

Bad debts recovered during the year were $400.41. Interest on debentures waived by holders and debentures presented to the Club totalled $670.58, making the actual loss for the year as $581.47.

Reserve account still stands at $33,374.33 and nothing for depreciation appears in the balance sheet.

The reports of the various sub-committees follow in part:

Club House.

The Club buildings are in a fair state of repair. The slight subsidence which has been taking place since the building was built seems practically to have ceased.

The Club narrowly escaped having the gallery along the west side of the bath condemned as unsafe, and the thanks of the members are due both to Mr. R. M. Dyer for executing the necessary repairs at practically cost price, and to Mr. C. J. Cooke.

Library.

The library was well patronised during the year.

Over a hundred of the latest novels by well-known authors were purchased from the "Times" Book Club, and it is proposed to send them a further order for 144 books.

Owing to the large number of books now in the library, a new bookcase had to be purchased, which was specially designed for the Club by Mr. W. H. Whitley, to whom the thanks of the members are due.

Boat House.

Due to the lack of enthusiasm among the more experienced oarsmen, it was not found practicable to hold a regatta. However, the committee hope to be able to arrange some races next season as there is good material among the younger members and some well-known rowers have kindly offered their services as coxswains.

Oars and sculls are badly needed and it is recommended that at least six sets of oars and four pairs of sculls be ordered immediately.

Bath House.

The bath house committee are pleased to report a fairly successful season. Unfortunately owing to the installation of the new filter we were unable to entertain the Japanese swimmers again.

During the season three regular night fetes were held and in addition the harbour race was made the occasion of an abbreviated night fete.

The V.R.C. captained by Mr. S. H. Garrod were again victorious in the water polo competition.

Our annual aquatic sports took place in the beginning of October. Entries were rather poor.

The bath is in good condition but the pump and its motor though workable should be replaced as soon as the Club's finances will permit.

Athletic Sports.

Our 24th annual athletic meeting open to all amateur clubs of the Colony took place on the ground of the Hongkong Football Club (kindly loaned by the Committee) on May 8. The meeting proved most successful and there were good entries for the events.

Gymnasium.

There is little activity in this direction owing to lack of interest but it is hoped to promote enthusiasm in the coming season.

Owing to unforeseen circumstances the annual amateur boxing tournament of the V.R.C. was not held but endeavours will be made to hold a tournament in 1927.

Billiards.

The billiard table is in good condition but it is the committee's intention to renovate same as soon as convenient. The annual open billiards championship of the Colony was not held this year.

Obituary.

The committee regret to report the deaths of three members since the last meeting, viz.—Sir C. P. Chater, Hon. Mr. P. H. Holyoak, Mr. Ho Fook.

NEW FOOD ORDER.

DIFFICULTY OF KEEPING THINGS FRESH.

The coming into force recently of the regulations issued by the Ministry of Health banning the use of preservatives or colouring matter in foodstuffs has given rise to complaints in certain sections of the affected trades. Those who criticize the action of the Minister most are the retailers and the small manufacturers, whereas bodies like the Food Manufacturers' Federation and the Manufacturing Confectioners' Alliance, while taking exception to certain points of detail in the regulations, admit that there is really very little room for complaint.

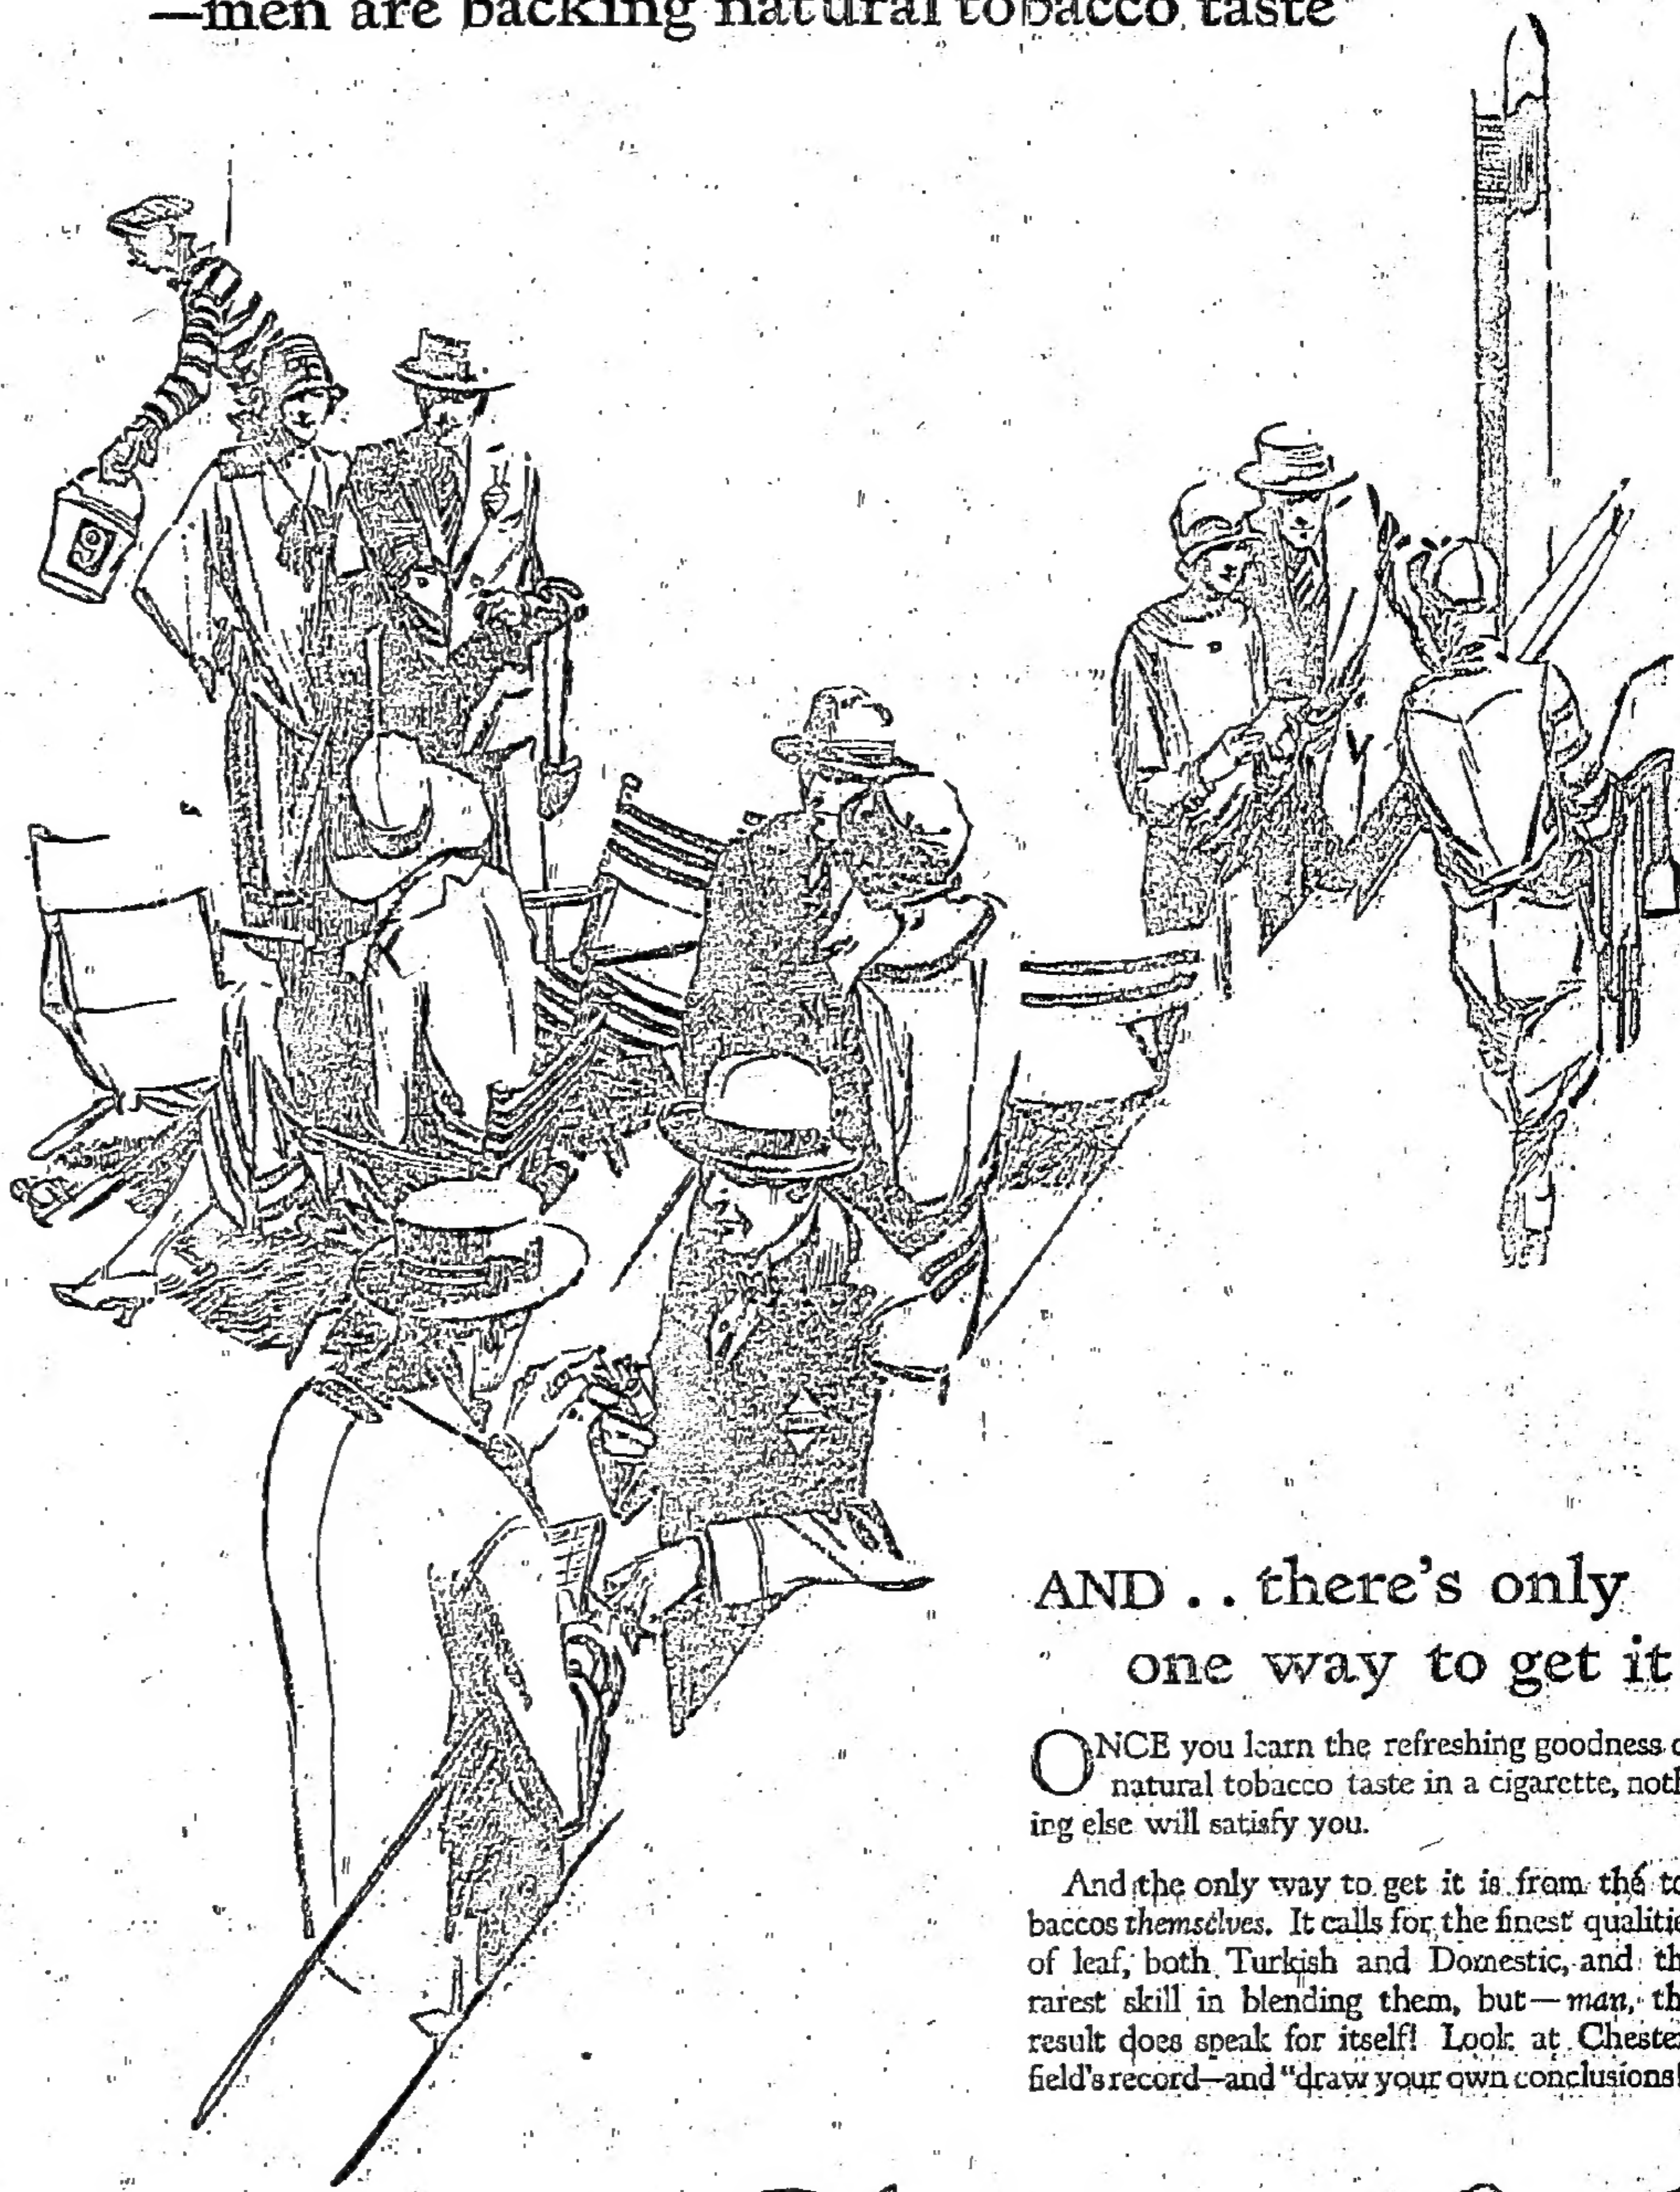

A high authority connected with the grocery distributive trade described the coming into force of the regulations as a very serious thing for the consumer. "A walk down Regent-street or Kingsway," he said, "almost suggests that the Ministry of Health is actively concerned with the sale of refrigerators. These articles have been rushed on to the market in the last six or nine months in anticipation of the coming into force of the regulations. These things, however, are only for the wealthy, who can afford to put them into their houses. The puzzling question is: What about the City clerk who cannot afford to spend £50 to £100 on a refrigerator or the cost of the upkeep of the domestic ice safe? What about the working man who can get no ice safe and the dwellers in congested districts like Leesongrove, the streets off Aldgate and Whitechapel, or the crowded population of Bermondsey? Where are they going to keep their food in cool conditions?

"What is to become of the huge stocks of all kinds of foods that for over half a century have been kept fresh and sweet by means of such preservatives as are now barred? How are the tolling millions to get food kept sweet when it gets into their possession? How are the distributors of such foods to carry their supply over long distances, and how are shopkeepers, large and small, to keep such provisions sweet, not merely during the summer months, but during the humidity of the days in autumn and spring and even in winter?"

CHAMPIONSHIP EVENTS DECIDED.

The last of the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club championships was sailed on Saturday, with the result that Rolla came out top of the Handicap Class, Daphne took the One Design and Gael Class and Bluenose the Heyward Hays.

The course on Saturday was over eight miles, from the Club-house to Lyman Beacon, Cust Rock, Club-house mark, and Channel Rocks, finishing at Club mark, all to port. The timed results given below are in the sequence of crossing the line and it will be seen that handicaps make a decided difference, putting Rolla back from second to fourth and giving Colleen and La Linda a lift. The season's results give Diana and Dorothea level points for third place in their class. There will in consequence have to be a re-sail to decide which will compete in the race for the Tai Yac Cup, open to the leading three in each division.

Sunday's Race - Off.

The cruiser No. 6 Race around Lamma Island yesterday had to be called off. The start was made at 10.35, the following boats getting away: La Gigue, U. and L. Coquette, Peuliers, Norseman, Queen Bee, and Lady Jane.

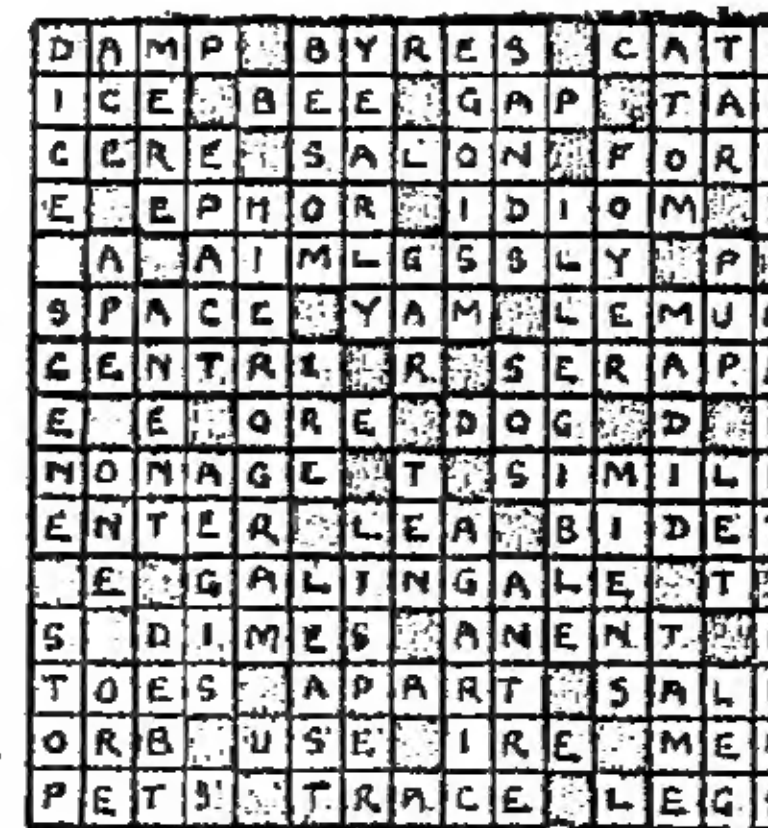

The limit of time was placed at 7.30 p.m. and as none of the boats had returned at that hour the race was declared off and will have to be sailed another day.

A NEWSBOY KNIGHT.

HONOUR FOR SOCIALIST
EX-MAYOR.

How he rose from a newspaper seller, earning 3s. 6d. a week, to Lord Mayor of Birmingham and a knighthood, was described by Alderman Percival Bower to a newspaper representative recently. Alderman Bower was included in the list of new knights in the New Year honours list.

"I was born at Hylthe, in Kent, in 1879," he said, "my father being a soldier at the school of musketry. My parents died when I was eleven years of age, and I had to get my own living. My first job was that of a newspaper boy, and during the first week in that capacity I made 3s. 6d., the first money I ever earned. Then I went on to Slaybrook Farm, in Kent, where I was paid a half crown a week and my board. There I started work at four in the morning and stayed until any time at night.

"At fourteen I became apprentice to an engineer blacksmith, and the highest wage I received during my apprenticeship was twelve shillings. I used to go into the workshop at six in the morning, stay until five at night, and then go to a night school from seven till nine. When I go home I would often read for an hour or two, and frequently had very little sleep. "After visiting several parts of the country I landed at Birmingham, where I worked until during the war I found my self on the Advisory Committee for the output of munitions. In 1919 I was elected to the City Council for the time, and in 1920 was made an alderman, appointed justice of the peace, and received the Order of the British Empire. The honour of being Lord Mayor of Birmingham fell to my lot in 1924.

"The next year my colleagues elected me Lord Mayor again, and during that year I had a pretty difficult time. Towards the end I went over to Albert and was made a Chevalier of the Legion of Honour.

Asked if he would still continue his work on behalf of the Socialist Party, Alderman Bower replied that at the moment he was not taking any active part. "I regard my position as Deputy-Mayor as necessitating abstinence from political activity, in the same way as the Lord Mayor. My ideas are unchanged, and my political faith remains.

"From my earliest days I have been a great reader. The political careers of certain outstanding personalities of those days always held a remarkable fascination for me. Of course, I never anticipated that I should occupy the seat of one of my favourites—Joseph Chamberlain, whose work I greatly admired."

LETTING THE WORLD KNOW.

In view of all the misrepresentations which have been given currency regarding Britain's policy in China, it is extremely gratifying that the opportunity has been taken of officially setting before the League of Nations the broad and generous principles on which that policy is in reality based. As the Memorandum just issued clearly establishes, Britain has been animated by feelings of the utmost friendship towards China and the Chinese people, and, despite the fact that the extremists of the Nationalist Party have deliberately set themselves out to distort the facts, the same general principles still form the basis of her policy. Indeed, it can be said that, in face of insult and calumny, Britain continues to show a magnanimity of spirit in her dealings with the Nationalists, which is far more than they deserve.

To anyone who has impartially studied the events of the past two years in China the fact must be obvious that the Nationalist extremists, egged on by Russian advisers, have made a point of singling out Britain for a special campaign of hatred. In that campaign, they have stooped to most reprehensible methods. Only one thing has mattered with these agitators—the cultivation of a hatred of all things British in order, as the latest Memorandum so well puts it, that the solidarity of the Nationalist Party might be promoted and its aggressive spirit stimulated. Although all the Treaty Powers followed the same general policy in their dealings with China, for the purposes of the campaign the Nationalists have especially singled out Britain as their target. Those same tactics have been followed wherever the Nationalists have extended their authority. On the Yangtze, other Powers than Britain own concessions, but whilst a dead set has been made against Britain, no attempt has been made to dispute the rights of these other nations. No stronger proof is needed than this of the fact that Nationalist policy is based, not on broad and general principles applicable to all, but on sheer enmity of Britain. In the face of all these happenings, however, Britain has put forward proposals of a more liberal and generous character than any of the other Powers have done.

The Memorandum now communicated to the League of Nations puts the situation very clearly before the whole world, and the document serves the additional purpose of letting the Nationalists know that further concessions can only be made when official stimulation of anti-British propaganda definitely ceases. The Nationalist conception of diplomacy would appear to be based on a "take all and give nothing" policy. It is not by such means, however, that Nationalist aspirations are likely to be realised. If Mr. Eugene Chen and his associates are serious in their negotiations, then they must once and for all give up their Russian-inspired anti-British agitation. That is an essential preliminary to the putting into effect of the full British proposals.

Disarmament.

It is to be doubted whether a more opportune moment than the present could have been chosen by President Coolidge for the publication of his Memorandum on the question of further naval disarmament, and the fact that it was instantly received with such a "good Press" throughout the world is evidence of that excellent choice of time. The naval construction proposals of Senator Butler of the United States had done not a little to incite questionings regarding the future "armaments race," especially as that enthusiast had himself referred in almost scathing terms to the world's race for naval supremacy. There can be no doubt that although the Washington Conference resulted in a great achievement it did not eliminate competition in naval construction, and there has been a very costly competition in certain directions since that time. President Coolidge now proposes that the delegates to the Preparatory Commission who are going to meet at Geneva in March should be empowered to negotiate an agreement further limiting naval armaments and covering classes of vessels which were not included in the Washington Agreement. By this act a President of the United States has once again taken the executive lead in asking the nations of the world to cut down their expenditures on the means of waging warfare, and there can be little doubt that a very beneficial arrangement will eventually be come to. So far as Britain is concerned, there will most assuredly be keen co-operation in the matter, for Britain has long since been a generous supporter of the idea of reducing armaments. At the last Washington Conference it was Britain that wanted to go farther than any of the other nations were willing. France and Italy will undoubtedly support the idea, though if France makes a reservation that the problem must remain in the hands of the League of Nations there might be a hitch on account of America's delicate position. Japan has, as yet, given no indication, but Japan is not likely to go contrary to the weight of other opinion, for she has invariably been a loyal co-operator in international affairs. All indications would seem to point to the fact that we are on the eve of another big step forward in the evolution of permanently amicable international relations.

DAY BY DAY.

WE HAVE ALWAYS PRETENSIONS TO FAME WHICH IN OUR OWN HEARTS WE KNOW TO BE DISPUTABLE.—Dr. Johnson.

The tourist ship Empress of Scotland left Hongkong for Shanghai last night.

The P. and O. s.s. Malwa, from Hongkong, arrived at London on the 10th February at noon.

Paymaster Lieutenant B. K. H. Norgate has been appointed to H.M.S. Enterprise, amended orders.

During the week-end there were reported one Chinese case of small-pox and one Chinese case of puerperal fever.

The quarantine restrictions imposed by Hongkong against arrivals from Haiphong on account of cholera have been removed.

The Sale of Work in connection with the Mothers' Union takes place at the Helena May Institute to-morrow, commencing at 2.30 p.m.

For failing to observe the rule of the road, the coxswain of the steam launch Man Yee was fined $10, or ten days, at the Marine Court this morning.

The Hanoi piracy suspect was this morning remanded for another week, as the Magistrate (Mr. R. E. Lindell) was unable, on account of a full list, to proceed with the case.

Fire broke out in taxi-cab No. 264, on Sunday, whilst it was parked at the Pedder Street stand. Other taxi drivers helped to extinguish the flames, and only slight damage was done to the radiator.

Four members of the crew were rescued when the Norwegian vessel Corona came into collision with a junk off Swatow, according to a report made at the Harbour Office. Five others are reported to be missing.

"As nobody claimed it, I took it," said a Sanitary Department coolie, who was charged before Mr. R. E. Lindell this morning with being in unlawful possession of a 14-foot plank. Defendant was fined $6, or seven days.

Up to nine o'clock this morning, the total number of ships arriving during the previous twenty-four hours was 25, of which number six were British. Departures numbered 38, of which 18 were British. The total number of ships in harbour was 69.

The following vessels are expected to be in wireless communication with Hongkong to-day:—Hozan Maru, Taishan Maru, Kohoku Maru, Indo Maru, Glenamoy, Kanchow, Rohna, Nagpore, Empress of Scotland, West Nomentum and Hosang.

Fire broke out at No. 48, Bonham Strand East, on Saturday morning, in premises occupied by the Wo Hing Loong goldsmith's shop, being caused through the setting alight of a piece of matting by a spark from the melting furnace. The outbreak was extinguished before it could make much headway, but damage to the extent of $300 was caused.

Two boys followed a nine-year-old girl up the staircase in No. 49, Lee Tung Street, yesterday, and while one of them caught hold of her by the neck, his companion snatched a gold-mounted rattan bangle from her wrist. Quick as the police were to take steps in the case when it was reported to them, the culprits were even quicker, for they managed to pawn the article at a shop in Irving Street, before the detectives went to the shop to make enquiries. No arrests have been made.

At the shareholders' meeting of the Humphreys Estate and Finance Co., Ltd., on Saturday, those present in addition to Mr. Henry Humphreys (Chairman) were Mr. J. Scott-Harston, Mr. W. L. Patenden, the Hon. Mr. A. O. Lang and Mr. J. M. Alves (Directors). Messrs. C. Bulmer-Johnson, O. F. Ribeiro, A. P. Samy, D. E. Clark, C. Bernard Brown, and W. Morley (shareholders) with the Secretary, Mr. G. Rapp. The report and accounts were unanimously adopted, and Messrs. Percy Smith and Fleming and Messrs. Linstead and Davis were re-appointed auditors. Retiring Directors were also re-elected.

MUDFORD VOTES RED.

TWO SOCIALISTS HEAD THE POLL.

GERTY IN THE PICTURE.

(By Our Political Correspondent).

Saturday was a Long Munn-Day at Mudford-on-Sea, both Socialist candidates being returned at the head of the poll after one of the most momentous elections of recent years.

Mr. W. L. Walker, the Moderate, was the third successful candidate, closely followed by his partner, Mr. W. J. Keates, and the Progressives, Mr. A. McArthur and Mr. E. G. Sewell.

The result of the ballot was announced at 10.15 p.m. as follows:—

Fred Munn (Soc.) 66
Joe Long (Soc.) 54
W. L. Walker (Mod.) 36
W. J. Keates (Mod.) 31
A. McArthur (Prog.) 27
E. Sewell (Prog.) 26
One hundred and four constituents went to the poll, and one paper was spoiled by a gentleman who put a cross against two names and added "You don't deserve it."

The Socialist vote was equal to that of the other parties combined, largely because the majority of their supporters felt the party spirit so strongly that they refrained from "casting their third vote." Messrs. Munn, Long, Dand, Dolas, and Sands, the active members of the Mudford Socialist Party, desire to make it clear that the Red platform was adopted only for the purposes of the election, and should not be put down as a blot on their previous unblemished records.

THE FINAL SCENTS.

The Mudford Town Hall was the scene of lively enthusiasm on Saturday night, that prominent Moderate leader, Mrs. Councillor Sapsed (Gushing Gerty, the Girl with the Gamp) daintily attired in an attenuated dress of yellow crepe-de-chine, with black silk bow, and black hat to match, being most decidedly present. Her black stockings, provided for the occasion by Monod's, the famous firm of dress-makers, were rolled in accordance with the latest decree of the experts. Mr. Councillor E. R. Price has now withdrawn his offer of marriage, but Gerty wishes it to be known that she has no fear for the future.

The Mayor (the Rev. Horace Johnston) addressed the gathering after the poll had been declared, and his Mudfordian dialect added just one further point to that series of amazing things to be found in the town of Mudford, which take the outsider a good deal to accept as gospel.

Able speeches were delivered on the spur of the moment by the successful candidates, after which the success of the Town Council was proposed elsewhere.

CAMOUFLAGE.

HARBOUR THIEVES' COURTNEY.

Labouring under the misconception that they were being courteously helped from a sampan on to steamers, passengers engaging the boat on which a young Chinese was employed, were really being continuously robbed. At the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, the system by which these petty thefts were carried out was explained to the Magistrate, before whom an alleged member of a gang of harbour thieves was charged with attempted larceny from the person of a Chinese passenger and with being a rogue and vagabond.

The prosecution put forward the allegation that the defendant, who worked in conjunction with his aunt on a sampan, always assisted passengers from his boat to ocean-going ships. When opportunity arose, the defendant, it was alleged, put his hands into customers' pockets and stole the contents.

On conviction, the defendant was sentenced to four months' hard labour, it being shown, on production of his criminal record, that he had previously received twelve strokes of the cane for larceny, been fined $25 for boarding a ship without permission, and been sentenced to three months' hard labour for stealing.

The Very Idea!

The officer on duty asked a sentry who was a new recruit—"If you should see an armed party approach what would you do?"
"Turn out the guard, sir."
"Good. And suppose you saw a battleship coming across the parade ground, what would you do in that case?"
"Well, I'd report to the hospital for treatment, sir," was the thoughtful reply.

Dancing has so far come under the displeasure of the Swiss canton of Ticino that a law has been passed preventing dancing except during the first three months of the year. Every ball must receive police authorization and it is expressly forbidden that youths under sixteen years of age may dance at all. Between the ages of sixteen and twenty dancers must be accompanied by their parents.

A recent examination at the Hoe Grammar School, Plymouth, produced the following "howlers":—
The chief occupation of the inhabitants of Perth is dying.
Rhetoric is a form of arithmetic.
An epitaph is a horse with the head of a man.

A hostage is a lady who entertains visitors.

An epigram is a man who goes from one country to another.

The Magna Charta forbade any taxes.

Jonah of Arc was born at Daventry.

In France the pheasants sleep upon mattresses.

Cheese is butter gone bad.

Blessed are the rich because they have received their consolation.

Willesdon magistrate to defendant: Can you do as you like in Fulham, where you live? Man: No. Magistrate: Neither can you here.

Derbyshire husband: The housing problem has extinguished our married life!

Midland mother: All my sons hope to be footballers some day; it is better than going down the goal pit.

A Paris chef, seeking novelties, recently served a medieval meal. The table cloth was pleated so guests could wipe their mouths and fingers, no plates or forks were used. The uncarpeted floor was strewn with foliage. The platters were of wood, and all dishes and decanters of pewter. There were eel pasty, minced fowl, old wines, roots and leeks served with spice sauce and garlic, fruit and sweet wine from Cyprus.

Waiter—"Did you ring for me, sir?"

Diner—"Ring for you? Heavens!—no man. I was tolling the bell for you. I thought you were dead."

Acting on the theory that if shoulders are made broad hips will look slimmer, British fashion designers have dug dusty fashion sheets out of the archives of 1,900 and are creating for this winter a new version of the leg-of-mutton sleeve, in vogue at the beginning of the century.

A farmer left his pig in the road while he went to the inn. Shortly afterwards someone called to him—"Is that your pork out in the road?"

A car had passed.

An incident which took place on board the Empress of Scotland when she was on the high seas resulted in a case being instituted in the Colombo Police Court by one of the passengers on board against a fellow-passenger.

The complainant, Mr. John Wylie, of Glasgow, charged Mr. Harry Hunnell, of the U.S.A., with having caused hurt to him and with intentional insult. Complainant stated that he was a British subject. On the 17th instant at 10 p.m. on board the Empress of Scotland when she was on the high seas, the accused, an American subject, struck him on the head and used an objectionable expression. He was very much annoyed and provoked.

When the case came up Mr. Tiruchelvam said that the case had been settled after a vigorous handshake and champagne all round.

Valencia is the centre of the Spanish fan industry, which employs almost 2,000 labourers in 40 factories, the Department of Commerce reports. Most of the work on these delicate products is done by hand and only the simplest machinery is used. Materials employed in the manufacture of Valencia fans include naere, galalith, fine woods, bone, silk, cotton, paper and feathers. These yearly exports of the fans are valued at 2,000,000 pesetas. They are sent to the West Indies and South American countries where the fan is an important accessory to the coquette's costume.

HONGKONG YOUNG MEN.

FORMAL OPENING OF ST. PETER'S CLUB.

Occupying as it does a commodious house with several large and airy rooms, St. Peter's Young Men's Club, which is situated in the midst of the residential quarter of Bonham Road and the vicinity, promises to be one of the leading local clubs in promoting closer social relationship between young men.

Emanating from St. Peter's Church, West Point, the Club will make adequate provision for the development of the religious activities of its members most of whom attend St. Peter's.

The premises were open to inspection on Saturday when the committee and members were "At Home" to their friends, on the occasion of the dedication and inauguration of the rooms by the Rev. H. Copley Moyle, Vice-President, who in the absence of the President the Rt. Rev. C. R. Dupuy (Bishop of Victoria), welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Club.

Speaking in eulogistic terms of the work of the indefatigable Secretary, Mr. George Zimmerman, Mr. Copley Moyle said that they had to congratulate Mr. Zimmerman upon the consummation of his project. When the idea was first mooted, many people thought it quite impossible to carry it through, but Mr. Zimmerman had stuck to his work and despite almost insurmountable difficulties had brought the Club into being.

It was fitting that that splendid work should be acknowledged.

Chairs Needed.

"We welcome our visitors and hope that we shall see more of them in future," continued Mr. Copley Moyle. "I would ask you to go upstairs and have a look round. I am afraid that we present our best appearance down stairs, but that leads me to ask you to think of us if you have any spare chairs or tables that you do not want. I can assure that they would be very welcome to this Club."

In reply, Mr. Zimmerman disclosed all the praise bestowed on him by the Vice-president and in the name of the joint secretaries thanked Mr. Copley Moyle for his remarks and the visitors for their presence.

"Your sentiments are coloured by your kindness," continued Mr. Zimmerman, "I cannot regard it as mere prose, but as poetic licence. It tells me how much we have to live up to. The promoters of the Club started it in the hope that it would help young people to prosper. The world cannot be right until the young men and women of the world are right." (Applause).

Three cheers for Mr. Zimmerman brought the ceremony to a close.

POET AND JUDGE.

DINNER WHICH WAS NOT PAID FOR.

Rome.—A young Italian, with be-frizzled hair, and dressed in the Bohemian fashion of fifty years ago, was brought up for trial in Milan for giving dinner parties without paying for them.
The judge made a shrewd guess
at his age.

"Yes," answered the young man,
"as you see, I am not yet 'Nel mezzo del cammin di nostra vita.'"
When the judge congratulated
him upon his knowledge of Dante,
the young man reeled off the rest of his acquaintance with the world of authors until he was pulled up by a caustic remark about his intimacy also with swindlers.

"Do not talk to me about such miserable trifles, I who have shaken hands with Marconi," replied the irrepressible debtor, and his defence went on these lines.

"I am a poet; out of my brain verses overflow."

"And cheatings," added the judge.

"But what can you expect?
asked the defendant, "I had no more money. 'Carmina non dant panem.' You doubtless understand Latin?"

"But who did you think was going to pay for the dinners?"

And the young man answered unhesitatingly: "Why, the two young ladies with me. . . Believe me, Mr. Judge; I will write some beautiful verses for you because I am a poet whose genius will one day dazzle Italy."

The unrecognized poet got a light sentence of seven days' imprisonment and a fine of a hundred lire because, to use an Italian expression, he "did not seem to be in possession of all his Fridays."

"ROPE" SHARES.

was no question of delivery of actual script.

Mr. Potter handed to his Lordship a solicitor's letter and a compromise bill, which, he declared, refuted the contention of the defence that Chan had dropped out of the deal.

Mr. P. Tester, a stock broker, and one time Secretary of the Hongkong Stock Exchange,
was called to give evidence.

SELLER CAN REFUSE.
Mr. Potter:—Supposing you disclose "the name of the purchaser, is the seller of the shares
entitled to refuse the name.

Witness:—Certainly.

Supposing he does accept that name?—Then you write on the contract "buyer's name disclosed."

I take it that in the vast majority of cases there is no question of disclosure at all—Yes.

I take it that it is only when you yourself are not satisfied with the purchaser that you adopt this method of protection?—Yes.

They also suggest that we were not ready and willing to deliver.
In the case of a sale of shares on the Hongkong Stock Exchange, is it invariably the custom that the script is always delivered by the seller—No.

There is a rule dealing with another way?—That is so. Witness added that the seller usually handed to the broker a delivery
order on the Bank.

If you were putting through this transaction and had been acting for both parties, would you have accepted this order for delivery
and put this transaction through?
—Yes.

No doubt you would have gone to the Bank with the cheques, and obtained the release of the shares,
and handed them to the purchaser?
—Yes.

NO TRANSACTIONS.

In answer to further questions,
witness said on July 28th, the Stock Exchange was closed, and there was no free market for "Ropes" on that day. He could not remember any transaction in "Ropes" since 1925.

Mr. D. H. Blake, of Messrs.
Wilkinson and Grist, said the plaintiff and defendant attended his office and brought with them a delivery form. They waited for the purchaser, but he did not arrive.—The defendant seemed to be in a position to complete the contract, as soon as the buyer arrived, and there was no suggestion that Chan should drop out of the deal. At that meeting, Mr.
Mohideen was pressing Mr. Chan to complete the transaction.

The plaintiff said that on April 30th, he entered into a contract with Chan for the sale of "Ropes," completion day being on July 28th, 1925.

Mr. Potter:—It is suggestion that, on the 27th, he disclosed the name of the purchaser, and you agreed to deal with him direct?

Witness:—No.

His Lordship gave judgement for the plaintiff with costs, with an order for specific performance.

FINAL HANKOW
MEETING.

the Nationalist Government would refrain from taking an aggressive attitude towards Britain."

HANKOW RULE.

DETAILS OF ADMINISTRATION.

A Hankow correspondent of the Canton Gazette states that the provisional Council now handling the affairs of the British Concession comprises the Minister of Foreign Affairs, the Minister of Finance and the Minister of Communications of the Nationalist Government. It meets once a week.
The details are delegated to four departments: Secretariat, headed by Mr. T. G. Woo of the foreign ministry; Finance, headed by Mr.
C. H. Lei of the ministry of communications; Public Safety, headed by Mr. H. O. Tong of the finance ministry; Sanitation, headed by Mr. C. Y. Lee of the ministry of communications.

These four meet daily and hear reports from the subordinates in their respective departments, issue all necessary orders, see to it that they are carried out, and generally direct the administration. Any non-routine matters are left for decision by the Provisional Council.

"CONCESSION" FINANCES.

The financing of the area is now being shouldered by the Nationalist Government directly. Pending the decision to be reached as a result of the negotiations now going forward between the Nationalist Government and the British diplomatic authorities, that method of finances will continue.
The entire administration and direction of the affairs of the concession are, at the moment, purely provisional.

CHINESE POLICE.

There have been no changes whatsoever in the usual course of affairs inside the British Concession since the intervention of the Nationalist Government. The entire staff of the municipal office remains the same, save for the British heads, who no longer function. The police, now, are all Chinese. The Indians who formerly were used as traffic officers no longer are used. The new Chinese police have been recruited from excess men on the police roster in the two special areas which were formerly the Russian and German Concessions.

MOB ATTACKS.

down on to the now blazing bonfire in the courtyard. The foreigners had to stand and look on while all their goods were burnt.

ESCORTED TO YAMEN.

After this had gone on for some time, leaders of the agitation, who had become alarmed at the blaze created by the flames they had fanned, endeavoured to calm the mob, but without success. They appealed to the foreigners to leave the building to save their lives, and escorted them through the infuriated rabble. This action diverted attention from the one remaining room of the building,
and the mob followed the foreigners out into the courtyard.
Here they were escorted by soldiers to the magistrate's yamen,
where they remained until the following Tuesday.

The party spoke well of the treatment received while under the magistrate's protection. He is a Hupeh man and treated them with kindness. He sent men to fetch what remained of their belongings, among which was, fortunately for them, the bedding on two beds in the one room which had not been looted. This bedding, divided among the five of them, sufficed until they reached Kluksang. They were escorted from Loping to Kluksang by four soldiers—from the magistrate's yamen.

RESCUED BY BLUEJACKETS.

En route to Kluksang they picked up other missionaries, making their escape, and had a calm trip
until arrival at the Treaty Port.
Here they experienced great difficulty in reaching the Kiangwo, lying anchored off the Bund and being used as a sort of hotel by the few remaining foreigners.
Boatmen created unnecessary difficulties, and soldiers turned
"nasty." They were finally rescued
by a launch from H. M. S. "Wild Swan," and arrived in Shanghai, cheerful on the whole, but of the terrible time they had been through.

OFF TO RUSSIA.

DELEGATES FROM CANTON.

The Provincial Department of Education at Canton is sending Lai Yue-ting to Moscow to make an investigation of Russian educational methods. It is reported that he will stay in Russia for a year.
From Russia he will go on to Switzerland, Holland, France and America, for a tour of six months.
Mr. Lai is at present Chief of the Youths Department of the Provincial Kuomintang.

The Chungshan University will also send Kwok Chou-wa to make a careful study of political conditions in Russia. Mr. Kwok will travel to Russia with Mr. Lai.

Tal Chi-tau, member of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang and Nationalist Government, has been sent on a mission to Japan by the Nationalist Government, with the subject of cementing friendly relations between Nationalist China and Japan.

JAPAN SNOWSTORMS.

Tokyo, Feb. 14.

tinued unabated in North Japan
for three weeks until Saturday,
when the weather cleared, are again raging, causing widespread death, destruction and intense suffering.—Reuter.

FEATS OF PENMAN-SHIP.SOME MARVELS OF MICROSCOPIC WRITING.

A complete calendar for the present year has just been completed
by Mr. Rowland Rispin, a Derbyshire man, the whole of which is contained in so small a space that if it can be covered by a threepennypiece and can, it is said, be read without the aid of a magnifying glass.

Mr. Rispin, who is a railway coachbuilder, has many similar achievements to his credit. Sixteen years ago he wrote one of Mr.
Lloyd George's speeches, consisting of 3,466 words, on the back of a postcard measuring 5 in. by 3 1/4 in. The card contained 100 lines of writing, and the task occupied
Mr. Rispin 8 1/2 hours.

Some time ago the Queen of Italy received from an Italian in the United States a postcard on which the sender had written a history of Montenegro compressed into 1,900 words, each perfectly legible and easily read. But Mr. Rispin would scarcely think that much of an achievement, seeing that he succeeded in crowding nearly twice as many words into the same space.

In the library of the Queen's Doll's House is treasured a remarkable specimen of microscopic writing—the Lord's Prayer written six times, a total of 420 words, in the space occupied by Mr. Rispin's 1927 calendar. This was the work of Mr. Frederick Smith, a Birmingham chemist.

But far more wonderful were
the specimens of microscopic writing done by the late Mr. William Webb, F.R.M.S., though Mr. Webb accomplished his marvels with a machine he invented. He used the machine for writing on slides
for use in microscopes, and produced a series of twenty varying sizes of writing, the smallest of which would have enabled the whole contents of the Bible to have been written fifty-nine times in the space of one square inch! These slides could be read only with high-power microscopes. Mr.
Webb broke up his machine shortly before his death, but most of the slides he wrote with are still in existence.

Charged at the Central Magistracy this morning, with disorderly conduct by fighting in the street,
two Chinese proceeded to give a demonstration in Court of what precisely happened. They were ordered to desist, and in giving his decision, Mr. Lindsell said: "You had been locked up for two nights,
so you can go. If you do it again,
you will go to gaol."

In the case in which a Chinese is charged with the theft of a number of articles from the A. P. C. building, and with forging and uttering a cheque in the name of Mr.
W. A. Butterfield, Detective Sergeant Baker applied for another remand before Mr. R. E. Lindsell
this morning. He said Mr. T. H.
King would take over the prosecution at the next hearing. Defendant was remanded for one week.

THE LURE OF PARIS.

COMEDY OF A CANCELLED
PERFORMANCE.

Copenhagen. December 28.—
The Royal Theatre of Copenhagen
has been unlucky with the projected performance at the Odeon Theatre in Paris. The plan was to present "Scaramouche," a popular pantomime, in Scandinavian with music by Sibelius. The first night was fixed for December 27,
and the Danish minister had been invited, along with many French celebrities and dignitaries.

Suddenly the whole affair was cancelled on Christmas eve. It seems that the director of the Royal Theatre, Mr. Johannes Poulsen, who has stayed in Copenhagen and only went to Paris for a last moment's inspection, foresaw a gigantic scandal. Preparations had been incredibly casual;
a considerable part of the cast,
and especially the young ladies,
were so absorbed by the gaiety of Paris that they had forgotten
everything—even the rehearsals.
Mr. Poulsen at once decided to countermand the performance, and now announces his intention to present "Scaramouche" in the Odeon in June, with due precautions against feminine preoccupation. Scenery and dresses will remain in Paris till the next attempt is made.

DIAMOND OUTPUT.

BILL TO CONTROL IT.

Johannesburg.—It is understood that under the Diamond Bill which is to be introduced during the forthcoming session of Parliament
the Government will secure power to control the output of alluvial fields.

They are at present unable to interfere with production.

Digging is now producing £2-000,000 worth yearly, and at the existing rate of increase that figure will soon be doubled.

This, it is recognised, is a danger.

The Government do not intend to change the quota of production of the companies.

The competition of the alluvial fields has been causing serious perturbation among the big established producers.

At the meeting at Johannesburg on December 14 of the Johannesburg Consolidated Investment Company, which is interested in the Diamond Syndicate and the chief South African Diamond mining companies, Mr. S.
B. Joel expressed the hope that it would not be long before the Government gave the uncontrolled production of diamonds careful consideration and decided on a new policy.
